

... Ann Landers

(Continued From Page 17) realizes Lover Boy is not going to put that piece of paper in her hand nobody else wants her. So you see, I can't endorse a setup which is immoral, illegal and foolish.

Dear Ann Landers: This is for the idiot who thought it would be all right if his youngster burned himself "just a little" on the stove so he'd learn once and for all not to play with fire.

When I was a young man I sold Bibles door to door. I rang one lady's bell and she came to the door in a panic. Her child had gotten hold of an ice pick and he had just fallen on it. The pick went into his eye. I rushed the woman and the child to the hospital. The child learned not to play with ice picks but it cost him the sight of an eye.

Another time I walked onto a porch just in time to see a youngster climb on a chair and pick up a loaded pistol from the piano. Fortunately, the door was open so I walked into the house and took the pistol from the child's hand.

The mother said, "What are YOU doing in here?" I replied, "Look, lady, anyone who doesn't know better than to leave a loaded gun within reach of a child certainly needs a Bible in the house."

I made the sale and maybe saved a life. Experience may be the best teacher, but what good is the teacher if the student dies?

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Necking and Petting—And How Far to Go," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.
